Fund Description

Invesco PowerShares Capital Management LLC⁴ provides institutional caliber products by seeking to replicate enhanced indexes. These indexes derive their investment decisions from methodologies that incorporate technically advanced and robust institutional investment research.

The PowerShares DB US Dollar Bullish Fund (Symbol: UUP) is managed by DB Commodity Services LLC and is based on the Deutsche Bank Long US Dollar Index (USD[®]) Futures Index – Excess Return™ (DB Long USD Futures Index). The fund seeks to track changes in its respective index plus the interest income from the fund's holdings of U.S. Treasury securities less the fund's expenses. The fund is designed for investors who want a cost effective and convenient way to track the value of the U.S. dollar relative to a basket of the six major world currencies – the euro, Japanese yen, British pound, Canadian dollar, Swedish krona and Swiss franc. The Index is a rules-based index composed solely of long U.S. Dollar Index futures contracts that track on the ICE futures exchange (USD[®] futures contracts). The USD[®] futures contract is designed to replicate the performance of being long the U.S. dollar against the following currencies: euro, Japanese yen, British pound, Canadian dollar, Swedish krona and Swiss franc. You cannot invest directly in the Index.

How Does the Fund Invest?

The Dollar Bullish Fund invests by going long USD[®] futures contracts. The USD[®] futures contract provides a general indication of the value of the U.S. dollar as compared to six major world currencies. The fund fully collateralizes its futures positions with cash and 3-month U.S. Treasury bills.

Why Invest in the Fund?

- Diversify: The Dollar Bullish Fund may help you to diversify your portfolio of U.S. equities because the value of the U.S. dollar has not historically been well-correlated with U.S. stock market performance.
- Hedge: Because foreign investments are priced in foreign currencies, if you are a U.S. investor with foreign investments, you can lose money if the U.S. dollar appreciates. An investment in the Dollar Bullish Fund may help you to hedge – or protect – your foreign investments from a rise in the value of the U.S. dollar.
- Seek profit: The U.S. dollar historically has experienced long periods of appreciation and depreciation. You can act on your view on whether the U.S. dollar will appreciate or depreciate by investing in the Dollar Bullish Fund.
- Transparent, liquid and convenient: The Dollar Bullish Fund invests in the USD[®] futures contract, which is an actively-traded contract listed on a regulated futures exchange. The fund gives you convenient and immediate access to the performance of the U.S. dollar because it trades on the NYSE Arca Exchange and you can purchase it in your securities brokerage account.
- Earn interest: The fund collateralizes its futures contracts with cash and 3-month U.S. Treasury Bills and earns interest on this collateral. This interest accrues to your benefit.

⁶ The Intraday NAV is a symbol representing estimated fair value based on the most recent intraday price of underlying assets.

Market returns are based on the midpoint between the highest bid and the lowest offer, as of the time that the Fund's NAV is calculated, generally around 4 p.m. ET and do not represent the returns an investor would receive if shares were traded at other times.

Volatility is the annualized standard deviation of index returns.

Beta is a measure of relative risk and the slope of regression.

Sharpe Ratio is a risk-adjusted measure calculated using standard deviation and excess return to determine reward per unit of risk. A higher Sharpe Ratio indicates better risk-adjusted performance.

Correlation indicates the degree to which two investments have historically moved in the same direction and magnitude.

Alpha is a measure of performance on a risk-adjusted basis.
